

2020-2021: Anna Josey

Anna Josey, co-recipient for 2020-2021, is a Junior at UNC Asheville pursuing bachelor's degrees in Psychology and Physics while minoring in Astronomy. Because Anna was an early college student, she received her associate's degree in science before attending a four-year institution, and she was awarded this scholarship during her first semester at UNCA. Anna has had an incredible passion for astrophysics since adolescence and this passion has followed her into her early adulthood. Her dream is to be a planetarium coordinator, researcher or psychologist at NASA. Her passions surround space exploration, the nature of galaxies and the behavior of black holes.
