

Bob Berman is the longtime astronomy editor of the Old Farmer's Almanac and, for thirty years, contributing editor of Astronomy magazine. He wrote Discover magazine's astronomy page from 1989-2006. Author of twelve popular books and a frequent guest on such TV shows as Late Night with David Letterman, he taught physics and astronomy at Marymount college, directed Yellowstone Park's summer astronomy program for 17 years, and for nearly a half century has led annual expeditions to total solar eclipses and the Northern Lights.
